Conditions of access

Archival records are made available to the public 30 years after the date of their origin. In justified cases the head of an Archive can grant permission for access before the end of the required period. Access to material is free of charge. Microfilmed materials will be supplied as reproductions.

Visitors are obliged to accept the Regulations of Reading Room and fill in the application form. Full powers, recommendations or commissions can be demanded in specific cases.

Orders are accomplished on the next day. Some records ordered in the morning for the visitors from outside of Lodz can be fulfilled on the same day, but the earlier phone call or e-mail can be useful.

Charges are collected for the reproduction of archival material.
